

WINTER'S FIRST VISIT

It Surprises Everybody By Its Unexpected Suddenness.

IT'S HERE BEYOND A DOUBT

Four inches of snow and the thermometer keeps falling till it strikes zero before it quits.

The balmy breeze and beautiful days of the past few weeks were blown away to the south by a stiff gale which swept down the canyon from the north and west yesterday. Several showers passed over sending along as though they could not stay longer and as far as the snow was concerned it was a fair warning of a few days of rain in departing to warmer climes for the winter.

During the early hours of yesterday morning close behind the rain came a cold wave that brought a snow storm, which spread a blanket of the beautiful about four inches deep over this part of the state. The sky cleared about noon and the atmosphere had a clear, bracing effect that was exhilarating. The jingle of sleigh bells tinkled in the air, and winter ulsters were brought out and the wearers prepared to enjoy a spell of winter weather.

GREGG-HEWETT.

A Piece of News That Set the City Agog With Enthusiasm.

Startling news came over the wires from Great Falls yesterday, news that made a commotion and set people talking on the streets and in the stores, news that when brought to the Elks startled them as only the footstep of a hunter startles the denizens of the forest, causing them, with anxious high in air, to rush away to get into their haunts, hidden in the woods, where they held high council. The news was this: "Bob Greig is married."

The telegraph brought the story and it spread through town on wings of rumor as swift as the electric current. Some of course say they knew it all the time, and it is no more than they expected, but generally such surprise was manifested. Mr. Greig has been an honored citizen of Anaconda for many years and has in all this time been regarded as one of the pillars of the Ancient and Accepted Order of Bachelors. But this was, it seems, a mistake, for, for a long time this change in life has been contemplated by the genial Bob, as every one familiarly calls him, though his design was kept a secret most successfully. His bride was Miss May Hewitt of this city, a young lady most highly esteemed by all who know her. She is handsome, accomplished and popular in society. Her home in the city has been with her uncle, J. W. Collins.

Details of the wedding have not yet been reported in Anaconda. Mr. Greig left for Butte, as was supposed, on Wednesday morning and the next heard of him was by telegrams to his friends that he had married and was at the Park hotel in Great Falls, where he and his bride will remain for a few days. Dr. Spelman and Rod Williams were notified to "pass the loving cup" and they prepared an invitation with the verdict that "Brother R. M. Greig committed matrimony at Great Falls Nov. 14, 1894. Sentence, one case. Come, join around the loving cup for Auld Lang Syne tonight." A number of friends were invited and at a special session of the Elks last night the ceremony was duly observed.

The following telegram was sent last night:

Rob. M. Greig, Great Falls, Mont.: To-night we are drinking to the health of yourself and lovely bride. In the bosom of every Elk have been fanned the fires of brotherly love. We all join in the earnest prayer that God, the best maker of all marriages, may combine your hearts in one.

J. J. Spelman, J. B. Leonard, Geo. B. Wilson, T. O'Leary, J. H. Walsh, J. W. Katonstein, Geo. P. Welton, John Morris, L. A. King, Dr. R. B. Snyder, Alex. Devine, George H. Lindsay, and all other Elks. Also: H. Kenna, John McMurray, Robert T. Tolson.

LA BELLE MARIE.

A Splendid Performance Billed for Monday Night.

The Charles Riggs company will appear at Evans Opera house Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 19 and 20 in "The Galley Slave" and "La Belle Marie." An eastern paper commenting on the performance of "The Galley Slave," says: "A large and well pleased audience greeted the first appearance of the Charles Riggs company in this city at the opera house last night. The play was Bartley Camp, Bell's ever popular 'Galley Slave' and the performance of this strong play was of the best order. Miss Ann Leonard made a very pleasant Cecily Blaine, and Miss Rose Stillman as Francesca was sufficiently forceful. The persecuted hero was well handled by A. C. Henderson, Jack McGrath was very funny as Franklin Fitts and the minor parts were all capably filled.

This evening "La Belle Marie" will be presented. The play is a pleasing comedy drama which gives opportunity for much elegance of costume and place for many new specialties. The Riggs company has certainly made a very good impression on its first appearance in a play familiar to theatergoers but which never loses its interest. The bill to-night is a new one to this city and should draw even a larger audience. Seats are on sale today at the Smith Drug Co.'s for "La Belle Marie" which will occupy the boards Monday evening.

KELLY'S FUNERAL.

The Body to Be Taken to Butte for Burial by the R. of L.

The funeral services over the body of the late James W. Kelly will be in charge of W. R. Morley assembly No. 3711, Knights of Labor, at Elbert's undertaking parlors at 1 o'clock this afternoon. A committee composed of Owen O'Neill, Joseph Wright and J. H. Hoy will escort the dead brother to Butte via the afternoon train and the interment will be made beside his mother in Mt. Moriah cemetery. All friends in Anaconda and Butte are invited to attend and participate in the last sad rites over the remains. W. E. Deeney, one of Kelly's most intimate friends, came over from Butte yesterday morning and returned in the afternoon, after learning that the R. of L. would take charge of the funeral. Mr. Deeney says that the statement of the dead man as to his having killed a girl in Portland is entirely new to him, and he never heard of Kelly's having been in that city. Some time ago the deceased met with an accident in Butte which injured his head, and he had not been quite right in his mind since, and he thought the confession which Kelly made was only the delusion of his unbalanced mind.

H. S. Neal came in from Princeton Wednesday. At that time there was no snow at the Royal and the weather had been fine, so that work on the new mill was progressing very satisfactorily.

Seats for the play at Evans opera house Monday and Tuesday nights of next week will be on sale at the usual place to-day. Monday night the play will be "La Belle Marie" and Tuesday night "The Galley Slave" will be presented.

Street Commissioner O'Neill was about the city yesterday notifying people to clean snow from the walks. Of course he did not see everyone in town, but it is expected by the city ordinances that every sidewalk shall be shoveled clear of snow.

The members of Deborah lodge No. 6, Degree of Rebekah and their friends, have planned to pay Miriam lodge of Butte, a fraternal visit this evening. They will go over at 2:10 o'clock on the B. & P. road and a special train has been provided to bring them home at 11 o'clock in the evening. A number have announced their intention of making the trip and a pleasant time is expected. Miriam lodge is noted for her hospitality.

Commencing Sunday, Oct. 28, the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railway will put a new time card into effect. Time of arrival and departure of trains is as follows: No. 2 leaves Anaconda at 8 a. m., arrives at Butte at 9 a. m.; connects for St. Paul, Chicago and all eastern points. No. 3 leaves Butte at 10:45 a. m., arrives at Anaconda at 12:35 noon, making connection at Butte with Great Northern train from Helena. No. 4 leaves Anaconda at 2:10 p. m., arrives at Butte at 3:25 p. m.; connects for Helena and intermediate points. No. 1 leaves Butte at 5 p. m., arrives at Anaconda at 6 p. m.

At the Montana. The arrivals at the Montana yesterday were: W. H. Fullwood, agent Charles Riggs Co.; P. J. Shiloh, Great Falls; W. R. Southard, Rochester; J. B. McMaster, Deer Lodge; G. F. Dodd, New York; L. L. Woodmansee, Portland, Ore.; Walter McKay, Melrose; A. Brown, Livingston.

Holmes and Thackeray. Once when Thackeray was lecturing in "the States" he was taken violently ill at the close of a lecture, and his host, James T. Fields, summoned Oliver Wendell Holmes, his friend and neighbor, to attend the distinguished guest. Evidently the doctor conquered him as well as his ailment, for when he had departed Thackeray looked up and said: "Fields, who was that funny little cuss?"—Judge.
